ADVERTISING MEDIA INFORMATION 2025

From the editor

If you love the British countryside, its people and glorious landscapes, its animals and the farmers who produce our world-beating food, then Countryside magazine is the one for you. Published by the National Farmers'

Union and written by knowledgeable professionals working within the rural environment, each magazine contains news and views, regular features, topical themes and high-profile interviews, as well as campaigning articles on key rural matters.

Our readers are typically aged 45 and over and have a taste for the good things in life, with the majority living or working in a rural environment. They have a high disposable income to invest in goods and services.

Countryside has a monthly circulation of 30,015* and can also be purchased as a subscription, or as a stand-alone purchase through newsagents, supermarkets and online via Mags Direct. It's also distributed to a number of prestigious corporate venues. Plus, the magazine is also available digitally on Readly, giving great exposure to a broad readership.

Themes

Every edition of Countryside is structured around a topic relating to British food, farming and rural affairs. Here's a guide to our themes for 2025.

JANUARY

Skills and courses

From dry-stone walling and land management to foraging and gardening, we'll look at how to broaden your horizons and learn a new skill.

APRIL

The Great British Garden

This edition is packed full of great ideas to inspire and transform your garden, whatever its size, as well as top tips on what to plant and when.

JULY

Then and Now

We reflect on our countryside's rich history – the crafts and traditions – and how these still have a place in modern rural life.

OCTOBER

Back British Farming

Our special edition focuses on the work of our farmers and growers, from environmental projects to harvest, and highlights their crucial role in feeding the nation.

FEBRUARY

Smallholding

Which animals should you keep? Which crops are best for a small plot? Can you make money? We take an in-depth look into the challenges of running a smallholding.

MAY

Travel

Whether you want a holiday that's calm and quiet or dramatic and challenging, the beautiful British Isles has something for everyone to enjoy.

AUGUST

Environment and conservation

In this edition we'll profile best practice in the fields of nature and conservation, look at government support schemes, and showcase Britain's environmental pioneers.

NOVEMBER

Pets and animals

Whether they're rounding up livestock of providing companionship, rural life is unthinkable without the creatures, great and small, that are by our sides.

MARCH

Property

Restorations and renovations – take a peek behind closed doors to reveal a treasure trove of property innovation and design.

JUNE

Made in Britain

Join us to celebrate the rural businesses flying the flag for Britain and producing some amazing products and services.

SEPTEMBER

Equine

The joys and challenges of owning a horse with practical advice, new products and rider interviews.

DECEMBER

Christmas

Let's celebrate everything that is great about Christmas – locally-sourced food, turkey tips, festive recipe ideas, a gift guide, a diary of events – all packed into one celebratory edition.

THE SEEDS OF A GREAT IDEA

The seeds of a great idea

Farming productively while caring for wildlife gives Fay Johnson a lot of satisfaction, as Emma Hopley discovers during a visit to the Leicestershire family farm

By Emma Hopley

Fay Johnson is a woman of many talents. She is a farmer, a wildlife enthusiast, and a community leader. She runs a family farm in Leicestershire, where she grows a variety of crops and raises a range of livestock. She is also a member of the Leicestershire Wildlife Trust and has been instrumental in the creation of a new wildlife haven on her farm. She is a passionate advocate for sustainable farming and has been recognized for her work in the field. She is a regular contributor to the magazine and has written several articles on farming and wildlife. She is a very approachable and friendly person who is always willing to help others. She is a true role model for anyone who is interested in farming and wildlife.

We didn't need to plant anything new as we use the seeds for the food that we are already growing

POWER TOOLS

Powered wheelbarrows and small trailers

From garden to farm, these machines are a handy addition to your toolkit

By James Davies

Powered wheelbarrows and small trailers are a handy addition to your toolkit. They are perfect for transporting heavy loads, such as bags of soil, mulch, or compost, around the garden or farm. They are also great for use on the road, for example, when taking supplies to a nearby village or farm shop. They are a versatile and practical piece of equipment that every gardener or farmer should have in their collection.
